"O Death where is thy sting?

MR. EDITOR: The above declaration of St. Paul was forcibly impressed upon the mind of the writer by the peaceful death of one of our oldest and best citizens. On the 5th of June, 1880, Mr. John Andes calaly passed away from toil to rest. He was born in Rockingham county, Virginia, November 27th, 1797. His father, Peter Andes, moved to Sevier county, Tenn., in the year 1808, and settled on a farm one mile below Sevierville, now owned by R. H. Andes, son of the subject of this notice. Mr. Andes was among the early settlers of this county. He professed religion in the year 1822, and joined the M. E. church, and has been an official member of the same to the day of his death, 58 years. On the 30th day of November, 18 3, he was united in m rriage to Miss Lettila Murphy, who is left to mourn his loss a short time, but will soon jun her dear, departed husband in that "sunbright clime," where they will never grow old again. He is the father of twelve children, seven of whom have gone to that undiscovered country and quiet men with whom the writer was ever acquainted, and he has known him intimately for nearly forty years. He was an honest man, and upright in all his dealings; an humb'e farmer, starting in life with but litt e, but by industry and frugality, always had plenty for his family, and to spare to his neighbors. In politics he was a whig, and during the war an unabaken union man and a ing the war an unshaken union man, and a republican since; was a warm friend of Brownlow's, and took his paper as long as he published one. He sent five son and one son in-law to the union army, who all enlisted in the gallant 2d Tennessee cavalry, J. W., J. C., and J. H. Andes, left A. C. and R. H. Andes, and his son-in-law, J. B. Seston, left home the count for the whole of that magnetfollowing November. Thus their aged ism. But they still think that the to take care of themselves. On account of changes in the distribution of such a parents were left in the midst of the war his loyalty and his sons being in the union | charge, due to changes in the condiarmy, the rebel soldiers took nearly every- tion of the dialectic medium between thing he had in the way of supplies for rations and fors e, which sorely tried his patience; and while being robbed, he was cursed by the confederates for his unionism netic perturbations. and for his sons being in the federal rmy, and den unced as trators to the south, yet he never wavered nor faltered. He bore all better than the loss of his two sons, A. C. and J. H. Andes, who died at Murfreesboro'. 'I hey took part in the was over, died in camps, and their remains rest in the national cemetry on the battle field. The tidings of their death almost broke the heart of their aged father, yet he never wavered in his devotion to his country or his God. anxious to help them along in this world, and encourage them both by precept and example to live an upright and religious ife, and to lay up treasures in heaven, whe e, after the toils of this life is over, all may meet where pestilence and war are unknown. From his temperate life in all things; his health was always good, never having taken a dose of medicine from a doctor in his life. About three years ago, he had a severe attack of sickness, and thought then he was going to die; tarked freely shout it, and said he was entirely reconciled to the will of G d said he was rea y to do his Fathe 's will, and was not a raid to die at any time; that he would not turn his hand between life and death, as he had lived man's allotted time, had done all work and was ready to go. But be recovered from that attack. From that time to his death, near three years, he seemed all the time to be full of the love of God, and when any of his children or friends would visit him, h - would talk of heaven, and say be desired to go home, that he had lived long enough in this world. A short time before his last illness he told some of his children when they visited him that he expected to go home soon, and did not care how soon; to at he had all his work done The reason that this medicine is successful in fo many cases with which remedies previously sried were unable to cope, is attributable to the tact that it is a medicine which reaches and removes the causes of the various maladies to which its adapted. Liver Complaints, Fever and the control of the desired was that when he got so he could not belp himse f that the Lord take him right away. His prayer seemed to have been an wered as he only lived nine days t om the attack and was sensible to the last mome t. On the evenng he died a good many of his friends called to see him, and he recognized them even when he could not speak only in a low whisper. About eight hours before he died his daughter, Sarah M. Seaton, asked him if he was suffering. He replied, "No, not suffering now, I have got up higher, I'm above suffering now. From noon till 8 o'clock p. m. his attention appeared to be entirely dire ted toward something above, and his eyes seemed to be fixed as though some great object was attracting his attention. He died without a struggle smid his friends with a calm and peaceful smile upon his countenance. J. M. H. smile upon his countenance.

Mr. Andes was one of the most peaceful

Telegraphers have often observed a sticking action between two metal contacts, such as the tongue of a relay, across which a current of electricity is passing. Mr. Stroh be i ves that welding is the true cause of this adhesion, and the appearance of the surfaces under the microscope confirms this view. The edges look as though they had been fused. Stains or marks of any kind made with nitrate of silver may be promptly removed from clothing by simply wetting the stain or mark with a solution of bichromate of mercury. The chemical result is the change of the black-looking nitrate of silver into chromate of silver, which is invisible on the cloth. Bottger recommends for the same purpose a solution of equal parts of ammonium chloride (-al-ammoniac) and mercuric chloride (corrosive sublimate) in ten parts of water.

The criticism by Professor Row. and of the much-discussed theory of ced by Professors Ayrton and Perry has led to a modification of their views.
